Prefatory Note

All images herein contained relate to the art works or photographs referred to in Volume One of this thesis where they are fully indexed with cross-referenced pagination with Volume Two.

Whenever possible, colour images have been included in this thesis, but in instances where the pixel quality has not been adequate, then a black and white image has been used instead. Where available, the date, size and medium of the artwork has been provided, together with any relevant information as to where the work is located or to which collection it belongs.

In some instances images have been obtained from web sources and therefore, because of the pixel limitations of this medium, larger images have not been possible to reproduce due to the distortion of the legibility and quality. However, on such occasions, the images can be viewed using the link to the URL provided in the text.

‘CVA Archives’:
This confirms that the documents held at the Archives of The Centre for Visual Arts. This Archive is currently undergoing systematic logging and so, at the time of this thesis, allocated Archive Document numbers are not available for inclusion in this thesis.
