ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to thank Ann Pretorius, the Director and the council of the William Humphreys Art Gallery for the financial aid of this MA degree. Thank you to Ann for her constant support, guidance and encouragement. Special mention to Judy Horner who started the research on the South African contemporary ceramic collection and inspired me to continue. I wish to extend my gratitude to Annette Coetzee whose assistance with the catalogue was immeasurable.

Thank you to Russell Scott for the photographs of the South African contemporary ceramic collection: 1984 – 2009. Thank you for your genius to shoot on grey and for your patience. Also, thank you to Sandy Ward from Kimco for allowing me to use her photographs.

I am especially grateful to David Walters and all the other potters who patiently answered emails, had conversations over coffee and explained over the phone how they make their work.

Many thanks to Juliet Leeb du Toit, the late Juliet Armstrong – for sending me in this direction and Ian Calder – for picking up the pieces and making something great from it.

Thank you also to William de Bruin and Jan van Zyl for editing the thesis and catalogue.

Special thanks to my fiancé, Niël, my friends, family, and especially my father and mother, Lukas and Sue, who this thesis is dedicated to.

ABSTRACT

This thesis catalogues and contextualises the South African contemporary ceramics collected during 1984 – 2009 at the William Humphreys Art Gallery, Kimberley, South Africa. The study contextualises this museum’s motivations for acquisitions of contemporary South African ceramics during this period, describes the original motivations for collecting as well as subsequent historical developments up to 2009 in evaluating various ceramic media of the contemporary ceramic collection.

The ceramic media includes unfired clay, raku, smoke fired, earthenware, stoneware, porcelain, bone china and paper clay.
The primary research for this MA about the South African contemporary ceramic collection at the William Humphreys Art Gallery was conducted in situ at this museum in Kimberley, South Africa.

This research consists of 2 volumes:

- Volume 1: Interpretive text
- Volume 2: Catalogue. A database with photographs of works of South African contemporary ceramics studied at the William Humphreys Art Gallery

Throughout the text (Volume 1), reference is made to ceramics in the catalogue (Volume 2). Throughout the thesis reference is made to the catalogue. The thesis consists of photographs and the relevant information of each piece in the collection collected from 1984 – 2009.

Prefatory Note

1. The Harvard ‘short form’ of referencing is used in this thesis.

2. Titles of literature are given in italics in the text of the thesis, and in the bibliography of references provided at the end of Volume 1.

3. References appear within brackets and are accompanied by page numbers. Where one author has several references, a date is added to identify the source.

4. Titles of artworks and ceramics are in italics.

5. Title of art exhibitions are in italics.

6. Measurements are in centimetres, height before width, for example ’12.5h x 15’. ‘h’ is added after the height, as this catalogue will be available to visitors at the gallery who are not necessarily familiar with the standard use of height before width.

7. Foreign words and terms are indicated in italics.
8. Illustrations of ceramics are numbered sequentially; WHAG accession numbers refer to the museum records.

9. Unless stated otherwise, photographs of WHAG ceramics in Volume 1 and Volume 2 were taken by Russell Scott (in 2010).

10. Unless stated otherwise, photographs of markings of the WHAG ceramics were taken by Rika Stockenström or Anna du Plessis.

11. Unless stated otherwise, photographs of WHAG openings were taken by Sandy Ward, Kimco, Kimberley.

12. A glossary of key terms, definitions and technical aspects as applied to the Collection is provided.

13. Additional addenda of WHAG archives appear after the list of references.

14. In Volume 2, under ‘Title/Description’: if the title is entered into the section, it is placed in inverted commas, where the description is without.

15. In Volume 2, ‘Condition Remark’ is only completed if condition of the piece is not listed as ‘Excellent’, ie if there is some remark to be made.

16. The acquisition numbers in this catalogue (Volume 2) will not follow each other, as all artworks at WHAG are accessioned in the same way. Hence, the ‘missing’ acquisition numbers are not omissions, but rather belongs to an artwork that is not made of clay and therefore not included in this thesis.

17. The following abbreviations are used in this thesis:

- WHAG: William Humphreys Art Gallery
- UKZN: University of KwaZulu Natal
- CVA: Centre for Visual Arts
- pers obs: personal observation
- pers comm: personal communication
